To do this quiz, you may reference anything (Internet, Assignments, Books, etc.) except persons (other than yourself) directly or indirectly. You may also start from your existing relevant assignment to tailor the code for the quiz.

Completion: Required   Submission: Required

Last Name:_____   First Name:_____

1) How and what to submit?

Submit the following (upload in Blackboard to the available container) in "one" PDF document (not in docx or any other format):
> i) The certification page (see next page) should be the first page, followed by > ii) your solution to the problems given on this assignment.

One way is to copy the certification page and your solution to the problems into a Word document and then save the Word document as PDF, and upload the PDF version (not docx version). Only the PDF version will be graded.

2) Only ONE upload attempt is allowed: Before submitting a document through Blackboard, you should review the document being uploaded to make sure that you are uploading the correct document (e.g. do not upload the assignment belonging to another course). To help you prevent uploading wrong documents, notes (titled "HelpOnSubmissionThroughBlackboard" on how to save & review drafts before final submission have been uploaded under Reference Material folder.

Certification Page

I, _____, certify that the work I am uploading represents my own efforts, and is not copied from anyone else or any other resource (such as Internet). Furthermore, I certify that I have not let anyone copy from my work.

Quiz #1 (on Assignment #1)

```
┌─────────────────────────────────────────────────────┐
│                                                     │
│                                                     │
└─────────────────────────────────────────────────────┘
┌──────────────────────────┐   ┌──────────────────────────┐
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
│                          │   │                          │
└──────────────────────────┘   └──────────────────────────┘
        ┌─────────────────────────────────────────┐
        │                                         │
        └─────────────────────────────────────────┘
```

Design the above webpage using HTML & CSS with the following detail:

Header box: Provide an appropriate title of what your left and right columns consist of.

Left Column: Include an appropriate image of your choice.

Right Column: Describe the image that you have shown in the left column.

Footer: Include your contact information (does not have to be accurate for privacy reasons)

Points will be given based on how feature-rich your webpage is.

Include the following in your submission:

-HTML code

-CSS

-Snapshot of the webpage (multiple snapshots if relevant)